Despite the cost of living challenges faced in the UK, we feel that our range offers excellent value for money and we have a fantastic offering at all price points.

2022 saw the on-trade return to fighting form after a challenging couple of years and we're excited to enter 2023 with renewed vim and vigour. The last 12 months has had its ups and downs but concentrating on the ups; Kingsland Drinks Group celebrated our one-year anniversary as an Employee-Owned Business, our sister company Ten Locks turned two, and The Hidden Sea reached a milestone of removing over 18 million plastic bottles from our oceans through global sales and built a Plastic Pyramid made from waste from the Nile in middle of the Egyptian desert. Our wonderful Rioja producer, Baron de Ley, teamed up with Omar Allibhoy, The Spanish Chef, to deliver some exceptional new dishes and wine pairings, our very own Mix Up RTD range scooped some incredible awards at the IWSC and our Prosecco brand, Borgo Molino supported the Chelsea Flower Show and Belgravia in Bloom with some fantastic floral themed serves. We continue to support the Drinks Trust through our ongoing partnership and work closely with the WSTA to campaign for a vibrant and sustainable wine and spirit industry.

We will keep sharing our exciting news as it happens on LinkedIn, so be sure to follow us there, and your account manager will keep you updated on developments throughout the year.

The Central Valley is set in between the majestic Andes Mountains and the mighty Pacific Ocean, making it an ideal location for growing grapes. ## FRANCE ALLIANCE LOIRE

The vineyards of Alliance Loire follow the Loire river from Nantes on the Atlantic coast to the Touraine region 1,000 kilometres inland. Alliance Loire is the stellar combination of seven cooperative cellars who decided to join forces in 2002 bringing with them their expertise on crafting expressive wines from their individual AOPs which reflect the diverse terroir, climate and grape varieties planted. We've chosen a Muscadet that has been aged on its lees which adds more complexity and rounded structure on the palate than a regular Muscadet. The Rose d'Anjou that we've also chosen is a great example of rose that has some sweetness to it but great acidity so the perception on taste is not overtly sweet but really soft and refreshing.

Tuscany's climate is generally Mediterranean, with the further eastern regions having continental influences from the Apennine mountain range. Italy has a turbulent geological history with a mix of many soil types, including albarese (sandstone) and galestro (chalky-marl). Even within relatively short distances in a particular vineyard the soil types can alter enormously, and good vineyard management is particularly important for consistent wines to be produced. Chianti lies towards the heart of this region and remains central to Tuscan viniculture.
